EUROPEAN SUSTAINABLE REAL ESTATE INITIATIVE

WHAT IS ESREI?

The European Sustainable Real Estate Initiative (ESREI) was launched by the Green Building Observatory (Observatoire de l'Immobilier Durable, OID) in 2021 in order to expand the impact of our work to the European scale. Due to their international development, real estate companies need to fully understand how their counterparts in European countries deal with Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) issues.

The initiative now gathers a group of more than 12 partners. With their support, we have published several resources (studies, guidance, factsheets, infographic...) addressing various topics such as ESG regulation, adaptation, biodiversity, energy, ...

ESREI'S PURPOSE

- Provide comparative and consolidated analysis of European sustainable challenges for real estate at European scale.
- Host and develop a European network by incorporating a wide variety of professions and backgrounds.
- Strengthen collective efforts around the most material issues for European real estate stakeholders.

How does it work?

- ESREI is a membership option for OID members, with several packages adapting to your needs and ability to engage, or can be joined by non-OID organisations
- Members are integrated in the production, to share their views, knowledge and experience during our Working Groups.
- The scope of participants allows better interactions and networking experience, with an annual event to bring together real estate key players.
- New collaborations and partnerships with other European industry groups help accelerating industry frameworks adoption, like ULI, INREV, GRESB, CCREM, BBP, DGNB, BGBC ...
